Fresh Summer Air, Bright Learning Experiences

Every year you face more options in deciding which athletic camps will be best for your athletes. Where do you send them to learn the most to exceed beyond expectations? Which camp offers the right fit? Sure, big camps have their perks and prestige—but your athlete can get lost in the crowd. At Juniata Summer Athletic programs, sports and athletics are not a number. They receive individual attention. Because we focus on small camps with high quality participants, each athlete walks away a little sore, a lot more knowledgeable and a much better athlete.

At Juniata, we also have a tradition of successful athletic camps taught by knowledgeable coaches. Whether a team camp or individual skills camp, our camp directors are involved in the coaching process with each athlete. At our team camps, coaches also receive specialized attention, information, and skills to take back to their schools. Teams leave our camps with tighter bonds and more spirit, and athletes form enduring friendships. In fact, some of our current coaches and students attended Juniata Summer Camps themselves.

Nestled in the Allegheny Mountains of Central Pennsylvania, Juniata’s safe, relaxing campus provides an ideal environment, free from distractions, to help focus players. Juniata is an independent liberal arts college committed to helping people think, understand, and express themselves. It is involved in the lives of its students, providing a unique opportunity for personal and educational growth.
