Colleen Coordinates Campus Conferences

There’s a new face in Ellis. Colleen McLaughlin joined the College on August 18 as Coordinator of Conferences and Events, replacing Chad Herzog who moved to Director of Alumni Relations and Volunteer Development.

Some of the first questions she’s usually asked are, “Are you the new Chad?” and “Are you related to Hal?” (No, she’s not related to the many McLaughlin’s on campus and yes, she is the new Chad.) Some of you may recognize Colleen—she graduated Summa Cum Laude in 2001 with a BA in Liberal Arts. Colleen comes to us from Pittsburgh, having worked for the UMPC Health System as a Community Health Advocate. During her stint at JC she interned as a Public Relations Assistant at the Bornstein Agency in Washington, D.C., worked as a student assistant in the Registrar’s Office, and was Program Director of Juniata’s Radio Station WKVR-FM. All that, and she graduated in three years! Colleen was a busy student.

In her new position, Colleen is responsible for developing, marketing and operating an aggressive conference and summer camp program for Juniata, promoting campus facilities, coordinating campus events, and implementing continuing education programs. Colleen says, “I’m excited to be back on campus and see friendly faces and meet the new people working here. It’s a change from being a student because now I get to see the other side of Juniata—including parts I didn’t even know existed.”

When asked what she does for fun, Colleen answered that she’s working on her master’s of liberal arts at Duquesne, which she expects to complete in May 2004. On a lighter side, she likes to go to movies and read. She is secretly working on a novel (you heard it here first folks) which is sort of the new version of “Chicli,” a story about a modern, young, single woman and her experiences in the world. We may have the new Bridget Jones in our midst. Colleen also is relearning to sew. She successfully made a doll quilt for her niece (without urging and help from her office assistant who is a fellow quilter).

Please stop by the Conferences & Events Office (on the second floor of Ellis College Center) to welcome Colleen back to Juniata.
Huntingdon County United Way

The Huntingdon County United Way will start its annual campaign soon. Through United Way, 17 agencies provide services to thousands of friends and neighbors throughout Huntingdon County. Last year Juniata was presented a Silver Award for having 20 or more employees who donated at least $500 with a 25 to 49% increase over the previous year’s giving. This year’s theme is Your Community Matters. May we count on you to help JC achieve another award-winning record-breaking year? Watch for further communication soon.

Baby Eagles

Greg Larson, spouse of Intensive English Program Director Elizabeth Smolcic, recently participated in the Raystown Splash and Dash Triathlon sponsored by WJAC TV. Participants first completed a half-mile swim, then a 10-mile bike ride, and finished up with a two-and-a-half-mile run. Approximately 55 people entered the event; Greg was the only “Juniata-connected” person captured on camera and maybe the only JC person brave enough to participate!

Many thanks to all who participated in the 2003 Juniata Women’s Golf League at Standing Stone Golf Course. The players bonded in a most touching way. A case in point—Norma Jennings, Tan Hille, and Pat Kepple were playing together on the 7th hole one fine evening. As the three-some approached the 7th tee, their shots went in different directions, Tan and Pat’s veered left and Norma’s ball sailed right. While searching for their balls, Tan looked over and said, “Hey, why is Norma looking for her ball under her cart?” Seconds later, both Tan and Pat realized that Norma was not in fact searching for her ball under the cart, she was writhing in pain on the ground. The uninjured golfers rushed over to Norma, discovered that she had done some serious damage to her ankle, and rushed her to the clubhouse. Tan performed ambulance duty, rushing Norma to the emergency room, while Pat stayed behind to let the other golfers know what was happening. Pat approached Athletics Marketing Coordinator Angie Erdley and her playing partner, Rochelle “Rock” Hopsicker, and explained the dire situation. Following a moment of concerned silence, Angie said, “So this means you won’t be joining us in the clubhouse for a beer?” After reading this, if you still have the courage to play in the league, contact Norma Jennings at jenninn or ext 3428. The league welcomes all levels of play, graceful or otherwise.

News From Campus Tech Services

Things are not what they used to . . . or at least they’re not where they used to be. Please note the following staff location changes:

1. Help Desk now located in C210 – “Help Desk Heather” and PC technician pals Andy and Ned, along with myriad student assistants, have moved to a newly renovated office area in the south wing of BSC.

2. Audio Visual moved to C210 – Gary Feagley and staff also occupy the office space in C210.

3. Other Solutions Center Staff are in C212 – next door you will find Rob Yelnosky, Joel Pheasant, student webmaster Joe Chung, and a mobile computing lab.

4. Dave Fusco’s office is now A218 just inside the main computer lab area.

5. Nathan Wagoner and TLT remain in Ellis College Center.

Need help? Just send out an SOS – that’s right the Solution Center is happy to announce the Solutions on Site (SOS) program. This new program is designed to deliver specific, timely training to faculty and staff in their offices (you don’t have to provide cookies, but we won’t object!). The faculty or staff member need only fill out a brief online form describing the help needed, choose a convenient time from the options, and within two days someone will be there to help. We encourage faculty and staff to not only contact SOS for ‘basic training’, but also for help developing solutions to more complex problems. SOS debuted September 16. Simply type ‘sos’ into the address bar of a browser or dial ‘help’.

Don’t forget! On Oct. 1, a new password policy will be implemented for all JC network accounts. On this day, all network accounts for users who have not changed their password in the previous 365 days will expire. After Oct. 1, all users will be required to change their passwords at least once a year. Once the new policy goes into effect, you can check how old your password is by checking the logon script that runs when you log on to the network. It reports your current password age in days.

For instructions on how to change your password, please go to http://services.juniata.edu/cts/helpdesk.html?faq-content.html and choose the Help Desk FAQ: How do I change my password?.

Volume 5, Issue 1
If you’ve been to the college advancement area in Founders Hall recently, you may have met Wendy Feagley. Wendy joined the advancement staff as Advancement Assistant in March. She replaces Christie Gibboney who recently moved to the “other side of the street” as Alumni Relations Office Assistant.

Before coming to JC, Wendy worked at Adelphia Communications for 6.5 years as Office Manager. Wendy and her husband moved to a new home in Hartsglog Valley last October. Also residing at the Feagley residence are two cats (Cordell and Nick) and a Siberian Husky dog, Oz.

The Feagley’s love to travel. A yearly visit to Gettysburg, the Pocono Mountains, and Atlantic City are among their favorites. Gettysburg is particularly special to Wendy because her great-great-grandfather fought there and is now pictured on the “Wall of Faces” monument at the Visitor’s Center. She has visited Hawaii, Germany, France, and most of the Eastern part of the U.S. Wendy also enjoys gardening, crafts and painting.

Wendy says she is happy to be a part of the Juniata community, and she is pleased to report that everyone here has made her feel welcome. She also is grateful for the opportunity to further her education by taking a class this fall semester.

New Copiers Sighted on Campus

By now you may have noticed that most of the copiers on campus are being replaced. Juniata’s fleet of copiers has aged. Most have long since passed their useful life. (Ed note: some of us know how they feel.) Not only do the older copiers lack the functionality of the newer, digital units; they also cost more to operate.

With that in mind, Campus Technology Services began to look for a way to upgrade copiers while keeping costs under control. Last year, copiers managed by CTS produced 1.4 million copies. An additional 1.8 million prints were produced on networked laser printers. It seemed that by combining copies and networked laser prints into one agreement, JC could attract competitive pricing from vendors. That appears to be the case.

In June a Request for Proposal (RFP) was prepared and issued requesting vendors to propose complete solutions to manage copier and laser printer costs. Fifteen RFP’s were distributed to local and national vendors. Twelve of the 15 were returned, and two were selected for evaluation. Assistant Brenda Roll led a team to evaluate the equipment. ACS Business World of Lewistown was selected.

Initially, all College-owned copiers will be replaced with multifunction digital copiers, machines that are also laser printers, scanners, and FAX machines. Users will be charged 7 cents per copy, which has been JC’s copy rate for the past several years. The new machines also offer document management capabilities, including scan-to-print, scan-to-email, and scan-to-file. A couple of color machines are being tested to determine demand for low cost digital color capability. Color prints will cost 25 cents per copy.

Most of the digital copiers have been installed, and the remainder will be delivered soon. The vendor also is providing supplies and service on the fleet of networked laser printers. Eventually the plan is to move billing on laser printers from individual departmental responsibility to a centralized management of all laser printers on a cost-per-copy basis.

All service and supply issues are being centralized at the Help Desk.

Who’s Naughty, Who’s Nice??

What do all these people have in common? Each wants the campus to look festive for the upcoming holidays. There may be others out there who feel equally compelled to ensure that Juniata has the proper holiday look this year. If so, contact Jo Ann Isenberg at ext. 3101 or isenbej. Remember, Santa’s watching to see who’s naughty, who’s nice, and who’s willing to help decorate the campus.

Randy Rennell, Director of Student Financial Planning, submitted this picture in response to the “get a picture of VP Bill Alexander on his shiny new red scooter” contest. However, TJL is unable to confirm if this is a legitimate picture. We admit it looks like Bill, but something just doesn’t seem right. Thus, the $10 will remain safe for the moment in TJL’s pocket. Thanks, anyway, Randy.

Why Am I Not Yellow?

Take a walk through the Intramural Gym and you will probably think . . . something is definitely different! What could it be? A new paint job? New flooring? New bleachers? None of the above. Over the summer new lighting was installed. The lights were donated by Phillip Kimball and installed by Dave Goodman (D.C. Goodman, Huntingdon). Remember how yellow everything and everybody looked when you walked through the IM Gym? Well, that’s a thing of the past. The Varsity Gym lighting has been upgraded as well.

Phillip Kimball wanted to make a contribution to the College in memory of his nephew, John A. Bortoli. John would have graduated with the class of 2002. In recognition of this gift honoring the memory of John there will be a plaque placed outside the IM Gym.

Thank you Phillip and Dave for your generous contributions to the JC Athletics Department.

It Felt Like Coming Home

“It felt like coming home,” said Evelyn Pembrooke, describing her reaction when she joined JC back in May 1988 after working “in the city” (a/k/a Pittsburgh) for years. She has used this phrase many times to sum up that time in her life.

Evelyn was recently promoted to Alumni Office Specialist, a well-deserved title for someone who “ran the show” single-handedly for about a year after a down-sizing back in the early nineties. Evelyn recalls how difficult it was running the entire alumni relations program by herself. But she realized that she grew as a person and gained confidence in herself during that experience.

Evelyn began her career at JC as an assistant in The Annual Fund (The Juniata Fund). She formed a close friendship with Nan (Heller) Hunt ’56, then Director of The Annual Fund. Evelyn feels fortunate to have worked with Nan and they still remain close today. After working in The Annual Fund for about three years, a member of management suggested that Evelyn move to the alumni relations department because of her outgoing and friendly personality.

Obviously it was the right move because she has remained the cornerstone of that department for the past 12 years. Alumni greet her with a smile or a hug when they return to campus and sometimes co-workers do too! Evelyn, we’re glad you “came home” all those years ago.

Katherine Bunce. Resident Director of South/Campus Activities Services Program Assistant. A native of Annapolis, Md, and 2003 cum laude graduate of Gettysburg College, she has a B.A. in Theater Arts and a minor in mathematics. Katherine was actively involved in developing an extended orientation program, "First-year Experience," to be held during the first semester for all incoming first-year students at Gettysburg College.

Nathan Hager. Resident Director and Assistant Men's Basketball Coach, is assigned to East Houses. He is a native of Franklin, Pa. See page 15 for more information.

Brandy Preslovich ’02. Resident Director of Sherwood/Assistant Women's Basketball Coach. A native of Snow Shoe, Pa, Brandy holds a JC degree in Sports Management. See Page 15 for more information on Brandy.

Hillary Sherman. Resident Director and Community and Career Services Program Assistant, is assigned to Lesher. Formerly she was with AMERICAN CORPS*VISTA, working with Kelly Turlish in the JC Office of Service-Learning and Volunteer Programs. She is from Asheville, NC. Hillary is a 2002 graduate of Elon University (NC), Biology/English Studies Abroad, where she surveyed the Euro's effect on nine countries of the European Union. While at Juniata, she has been involved in coordinating the Community Service Work Program for 92 students, co-advised student service organizations (i.e. Bonner Leaders), supervised events of Student Civic Engagement Week, co-organized Iraqi Crisis Teach-In with members of Juniata's faculty, and served as Youth Director, Abbey Church. She also is very involved with Huntingdon Area Habitat for Humanity.

Vivian Yamoah. Resident Director/International Services Coordinator, Tussey-Terrace. From Herndon, Va, Vivian is a 1999 graduate of The University Of Virginia, with a B.A. in Foreign Affairs and Asian Studies. She studied abroad in London, England, UK, at the School of Oriental and African Studies. She was a Resident Dormitory Supervisor at Keio Academy of New York in Purchase, and was Assistant English Teacher-Ozu Board Of Education, Ozu Town, Kumamoto prefecture, Japan. She also has served as Group Coordinator for Habitat for Humanity International, Kumamoto, Japan, and as National Database Administrator, Association for Japan Exchange Teaching (AJET), at various locations in Japan.

But Wait, What Happened to the “Old” RDs?

Danny Young ’00, moved from Resident Director of Sherwood/Assistant Women’s Basketball/Assistant Field Hockey Coach to JC Head Women’s Basketball Coach. GO EAGLES!!!!

Jeff Nicholson, who was Resident Director of South/Assistant Men's Basketball Coach, now is employed in the insurance industry in his home state of Indiana. He also has opportunities to stay involved in coaching.

Angela Illig ‘00, is pursuing job opportunities in higher education. She was Resident Director of Lesher/Career Services Program Assistant. Prior to this position, she worked for a year as JC Enrollment Counselor and was very instrumental in the recruitment of the outstanding Class of 2006.

Matt Shaffer ’00, was Resident Director of East/Assistant Director Of Campus Activities and now is Area Coordinator/Director at Penn College in Williamsport, Pa. Matt spent three years with Res. Life/Activities and was fondly known as "THE MAYOR OF JUNIATA." While doing an outstanding job at Juniata he earned a master’s in higher education from IUP.

Michelle DeNamur, formerly Resident Director of TnT/International Services Coordinator, is working toward a master’s in international affairs under a fellowship at American University in D.C. Michelle also has accepted a position with Georgetown University as the Visa Coordinator in the International Office.
Another perfect example of a distinguished faculty member . . . and her dad.

Office: P232; ext. 3628
B.S., University of Rochester; M.S., New York University; Ph.D., University of Colorado at Boulder

Dr. Bruce came to Juniata from the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, where he held several adjunct faculty positions. He also spent a year as a visiting professor at Marshall University in Huntington, West Virginia, and Millersville University of Pennsylvania.

Jason Delo
Instructor of Communication
Office: H101; ext. 3723
B.A., M.A., Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey

Professor Delo comes from Rutgers University, where he is a doctoral candidate. Before arriving at JC, he worked as a graduate teaching assistant at Rutgers. He comes highly recommended by a former colleague, Lynn Cockett.

David Gliem
Assistant Professor of Art History
Office: Carnegie Museum; ext. 3504
B.A., Juniata College; M.A., Ph.D., The Pennsylvania State University

At Penn State Berks-Lehigh Valley College, Dr. Gliem was Assistant Professor of Art History. David enjoyed getting to know the Juniata community even before he assumed his position here. His wife, Valerie, formerly worked in Media Relations at JC. The Gliems reside in State College.

Jennifer Hess
Immunoproteomics Postdoctoral Fellow
Office: 102 VL; ext. 3554
B.S., Western Maryland College; Ph.D., University of Maryland

Dr. Hess joins the JC research team of Dr. Michael Boyle, von Liebig Chair for Biomedical Science. Before coming to JC, she was a graduate research assistant in the Department of Pathology at University of Western Maryland.

James Laughner
Assistant Professor of Education
Office: G315; ext. 3654
B.S., Ph.D., M.Ed., The Pennsylvania State University

Before Juniata, Dr. Laughner was Assistant Professor of Education at California State University, Bakersfield. “Huck” says he enjoys keeping fit in the Kennedy Sports+Rec Center. He claims to look forward to the National Science Olympiad next May.

Amy Mathur
Instructor in English
Office: H 101; ext. 3690
B.A., Juniata College; M.A., Carnegie Mellon University; Ph.D. candidate, University of Arizona

Professor Mathur has been teaching as an adjunct instructor in the English department here since 2001. She is married to Ryan Mathur, Assistant Professor of Geology. Look for Amy along the sidelines at an upcoming JC football game as Coach of the Week!

Robert Miller
Associate Professor of Religion
Office: 203 IHB; ext. 3629
B.A., St. John’s College; M.A., University of California; M.A., Ph.D., Claremont Graduate School

Dr. Miller came to Juniata from a year as Scholar in Residence at the Westar Institute in Santa Rosa, Calif. He has worked as a professor of religion and philosophy at Midway College in Kentucky. He is enjoying (sabbatical) Professor Jim Borgardt’s residence for the semester.
Valerie Park
Assistant Professor of Education
Office: G308; ext. 3668
B.S., Ph.D. candidate, The Pennsylvania State University; M.Ed., Shippensburg State University
Valerie Park comes with a wealth of teaching experience in primary and secondary schools. She is one of two new faces in the education department this year. She is proud to announce that her daughter is a freshman at JC.

Mark Pearson
Von Liebig Teaching Postdoctoral Fellow
Office: P209; ext. 3722
B.S., Imperial College of Science, Technology & Medicine; Ph.D., St. Mary’s Hospital Medical School
Dr. Pearson, a native of England, comes here as an Optical Physics Postdoctoral Fellow. Before coming to Juniata he was a postdoctoral researcher in the Department of Bioengineering at Penn State.

Kathryn Westcott
Assistant Professor of Psychology
Office: G204B; ext. 3656
B.A., The Ohio State University; M.Ed., Ph.D., University of Cincinnati
Dr. Westcott taught as an adjunct at JC during the 2003 spring semester. She shares a full-time teaching position with her husband, Dr. Mark McKellop, in the psychology department. They recently became homeowners in the Highlands.

Amy Woodson-Boulton
Assistant Professor of History
Office: 200 IHB; ext. 3638
B.A., University of California, Berkeley; M.A., Ph.D., University of California, Los Angeles
Dr. Woodson-Boulton worked as a teaching assistant at UCLA before earning her doctorate in history in 2003. She and her husband, Luke, are enjoying the sites from their home on Mifflin Street and are happy to be a part of the Juniata community.

Jerry, Lisa, Olivia, Peter and Isabel Kruse headed to Colorado in July for the usual family vacation/reunion and to attend a wedding. Lisa tied down the car carrier loaded with wedding presents, winter coats for camping, and their best ensembles for the formal photo.

They lost the carrier before Philipsburg. Nope, they didn’t notice it disappear. Nor did they find it anywhere once they discovered it missing and backtracked. Jerry was driving when a mailbox jumped in the way of the passenger mirror and they lost that too.

The Kruse’s returned home to grab their second-best clothes for the wedding, and Jerry left a message for John Bukowski and Cathy Stenson relaying the ugly tale. Three days after arriving in Colorado, the Kruse’s received a gift certificate to Old Navy from John and Cathy. (Jerry and Lisa wish to express their profound gratitude to John and Cathy.)

Later, the Kruse family went to St Mary’s Glacier to get away from the 90° heat. The water was frigid, but Lisa’s brother Sam fished anyway. Lisa heard a noise, looked up the mountain, and what was this?!!! An avalanche was heading straight for Jerry and Olivia. Peter (3) said, “It’s okay, Mommy, snow can’t kill you.” Fortunately, in this instance little Peter was correct as the avalanche took a 30° turn away from Jerry who yelled (in his teacher voice) to warn Sam. Sam jumped in the frigid water and was unhurt. Olivia and Peter, much to their delight, learned some new words.

While at Burning Bear Campground, a woman came up to ask, “Is that your van?” “Oh, what now,” the Kruses exclaimed. To their relief, Sallie Hovanyecz Brown ’72 introduced herself and remembered fondly Drs Drews, Stroman, and Wright as well as Joan Engle.

On the return trip, the Kruse’s missed the floods in Ohio and Indiana. Guess they’re saving that grand adventure for another vacation.

A man and his wife were having an argument about who should brew the coffee in the mornings.

The wife said, “You should do it because you get up first, and then we don’t have to wait as long to get our coffee.”

The husband said, “You are in charge of the cooking around here and you should do it, because that is your job, and I can just wait for my coffee.”

The wife replied, “No, you should do it, and besides, it is in the Bible that the man should brew the coffee.”

The husband replied, “I find that hard to believe, show me.” So the wife fetches the Bible, and opens the New Testament and shows her husband at the top of several pages, that it indeed says . . .

“HEBREWS.”
49 Juniatians Pull Disappearing Act

At the end of a class or day at work, many of the faculty, staff and administration disappear from campus and end up as dedicated volunteers serving churches, scouting programs, professional groups, service organizations, and athletic programs. Others help guide community and governmental agencies.

When asked to let the Lantern know who volunteers and in what ways, 49 Juniatians reported involvement in 95 organizations. We can be proud of all that these individuals are doing for our community.

Those new to the Huntingdon area may want to check the following list to find individuals who can help them connect—there are many opportunities for service and leadership that remain.

Post Office Policy 2003-04
Faculty, Administration, and Support Staff

The JC Post Office is an official U.S. Post Office. It is responsible for all external mail that comes into the College and for distribution of external and internal mail. Mail is delivered campus wide between 9:30 and 11:00 a.m. weekdays. Contact the JC Post Office at ext. 3370 for advice on the best way to prepare and send out parcels.

Post Office Window Hours
Monday – Friday 10 am – 4 pm
Office Closed on Legal Holidays

Proper Procedures

1. Student mail should be placed in numerical order and secured with a rubber band. All mailings should contain the first and last name of the student along with the box number, which can be found on the intranet. Flyers that go to students must be folded into thirds.
2. Mail addressed to faculty, staff, and administration should include the first and last name and the office name.
3. Outgoing mail should be separated into inter-campus or metered mail. Note: If your department has more than one account number, mark what account should be charged for each job.
4. International metered mail should be separated from domestic mail.
5. All envelopes to be metered should be stacked the same way. Keep all flaps up so the meter can seal the piece.
6. Postage for departmental use can only be purchased at the Post Office. Stamps cannot be delivered.
7. Packages will be delivered around 1 pm each business day. It is important that a department rep sign for the package. Packages without a signature will be taken back to the Post Office and the department must collect the package.
8. Packages that weigh 20 pounds or more or those marked ‘hazardous’ will not be delivered. Departments will be notified of the package. Departments can pick up these packages or submit a work order to Facility Services for package delivery. Facility Services delivers on Tuesdays and Thursdays.
9. The Post Office will be open on a limited basis over breaks. The schedule will be announced before breaks and authorized personnel can pick up departmental mail at the Post Office during the scheduled times.

Student Workers are Important

Wonderful things happen when students come into our offices to work with us. Of course they lighten the load, but we also form friendships with them and get an idea of what life as a student is like. That’s not a bad thing when our main focus as employees of the College is students!

But sometimes the unexpected happens. This is the case with Lori Lane ’04. In her freshman year, she walked into the alumni office and inquired about a job because she “really needed one.” Evelyn Pembrooke recalls how Lori’s straightforward and honest approach instantly won her over.

When the spring of 2003 rolled around, there had been so much turnover in the alumni office that Evelyn was the only full time employee left who knew what to do to prepare for Alumni Weekend. We were all very thankful that Lori had been through it twice before, since it’s the largest event that the Alumni Office does each year! Now in her junior year, Lori provided essential support which proved invaluable in making Alumni Weekend ’03 a success. Even other people helping with the event noticed how much of an asset this student was.

The alumni office recognizes Lori Lane for her outstanding performance in the weeks leading up to Alumni Weekend, during and after the event, and also for her hard work every day throughout the year! Thank you Lori!!!
Brandy Preslovich ‘02 joins the women’s basketball program, once again, after leaving for a brief stint as assistant coach at Gettysburg College. While at Gettysburg she was an assistant coach of both basketball and softball, continuing to coach the two sports she excelled in as a student/athlete here at JC. After being away from home for an entire year, she decided the Burg wasn’t her thing, so she hopped the next Amtrak to Huntingdon to come on board as assistant coach.

Brandy most definitely left her mark during her four years at Juniata, both on the court and in the field. She wasted no time as a freshman hoopster claiming MAC Rookie of the Year for the 1998-1999 season. By her junior and senior years she was among the elite by being named to the MAC All-Star First Team both years. Her name also appears many times in the “Top Juniata Performers” for career scoring, rebounding, steals, and blocked shots. On the field, she also received MAC Rookie of the Year for her 1999 season, as well as MAC All-Star First Team her freshman, sophomore, and senior years. Even though she will not be wearing #42 this season, she will contribute in the second best way possible, by gracefully going from the sidelines. Brandy most definitely will be a huge asset to the JC team; we are very lucky to have her on our side again.

Nathan Hager ’01 returns to Juniata as assistant men’s basketball coach, after spending the last two seasons as the top assistant at Bethany College in West Virginia. Hager helped lead Bethany to a school record 21 wins, including a trip to the second round of the NCAA tournament, in the 2001-2002 season. In addition to his on-court duties, he was responsible for the Bison recruiting, academic advisement, and off-season development programs.

Hager was a four-year starter and two-year captain for the JC Eagles. After averaging over 11 points per game for his career, Hager was named the Jack Oller Most Valuable Player his senior season and received the William R. Smaltz Award in 2001. During his time at JC, Hager was the student representative on the NCAA Interpretations and Legislation Committee and worked as an intern with the Auburn University compliance office during the summer months.

Hager’s younger brother Nick will be a freshman this year in the Eagle basketball program. Basketball is a family affair for the Hagers, sister Hillary is a starting guard at Vanderbilt Univ., father Bill coached Franklin High School to the 2001 AAA state championship, and youngest sister Natalie is a rising talent. His mother Maureen serves as Sr Assoc. Athletic Dir. at Allegheny College.

After earning his BA in Management/Marketing from Juniata, Hager completed a Master’s of Science in Athletic Coaching Education at West Virginia University.

The Truth Can Set You Free--Really
A True Story by
Carrie Youtzy ‘05

My name is Carrie Youtzy. I am a member of the class of 2005 with a POE in chemistry. I currently work in the development office. When College Advancement and Marketing VP Assistant Pat Musselman saw the words “veritas liberat” peeking out of the back of my shirt and I told her my story, she asked me to share with others my loyalty to Juniata.

Veritas liberat are the words that (literally) released me from a recent bad relationship. Those words really did “set me free.” When I saw the words on the College’s seal, I took them to heart. I like body art and had been thinking about getting the words tattooed on my back for quite awhile. On February 14, 2003, I finally decided to go for it. The tattoo was the straw that broke the camel’s back in my unhealthy relationship, and my life is now much better. If you can’t be yourself, and be true to yourself, then you are not free. When the truth finally comes out, an enormous weight is lifted from your shoulders.

Veritas liberat!
Happy Birthday!

The “Mystery Baby” is Mike Henney, Utility Person for Facilities Services. Why does Mike hold the keys to Juniata’s success? Because he is responsible for all keys on campus. Think about it, if we can’t get into the buildings, we’re not going to get much done around here!
