So you need to find a book...

You just need to follow a few steps:
1. Have something to search for
2. Get thee to a CATALOG
3. Search using some keywords
4. Pick out some interesting finds
5. Take note of the Call Numbers
6. Go get it!

Step 1: Know Your Topic
We can help, but this one's on you.

Step 2: The Library Catalog

Step 3: Perform a Search
- Brainstorm some terms that your topic involves.
- Try some different combinations
- Use AND to narrow down
- Use OR to broaden out

Step 4: Pick Some Out
- Look down through your results
- Take note of the location:
  - Stacks - Books you can check out (Basement & 2nd Floor)
  - Reference - Focused information on a topic (Basement & 1st Floor)
  - Reserve - Professors have set aside
  - Curriculum - Early childhood education
- Take note of the Call Number
  - A-Z - Circulating or Reference Books
  - PAPERBACK - Periodical Reading Area
  - EBOOK - An electronic version you can read online
- Didn't find anything interesting?
  - Go back to your brainstormed terms and try again!

Step 5: The Call Number Breakdown
Let's look at HD30.255.S87 1998
- HD - Library of Congress Subject Code
- 30.255 - Further subject distinction
- S87 - First letter of author's last name
- 1998 - Publication year

- Basement - Stacks A-G, Reference A-K
- 1st Floor - Reference L-Z
- 2nd Floor - Stacks H-Z

Step 6: Check It Out
If it's in the stacks, take it to the Circulation Desk on the 1st Floor (make sure you have your Gold Card!)
Otherwise, make yourself comfortable and study away!
