

STUDENT-FACULTY RATIOS by DIVISION AND DEPARTMENT, 1992-93 to 2001-02

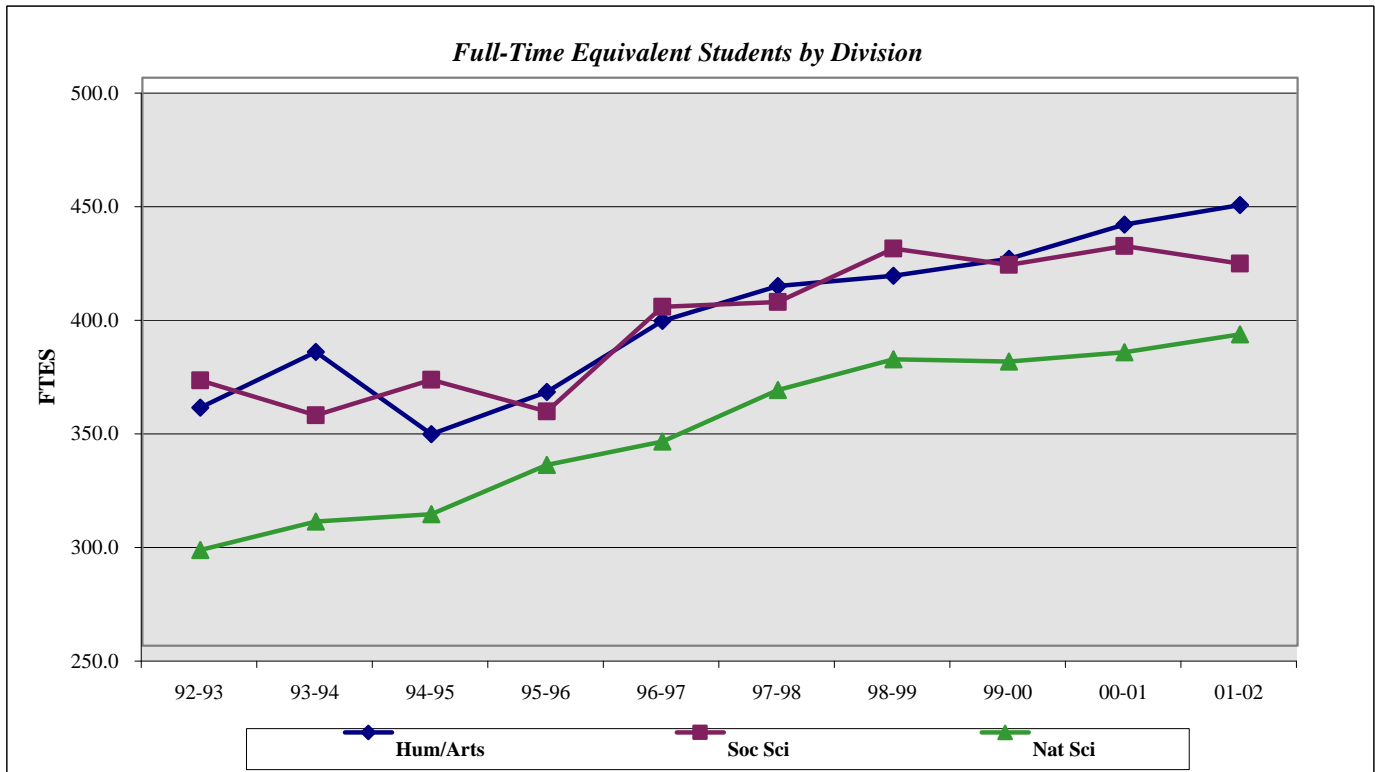

In 2001-02 student-faculty ratios continued to be much higher in the Social Sciences than in either the Natural Sciences or Humanities & the Arts. Among departments, the spread of student-faculty ratios has widened a bit over the last year. The highest student-faculty ratios are claimed by the Mathematics/Computer Science (19.5) and Accounting/Business/Economics (18.1) departments. The lowest ratios occur in Music (7.7), World Languages & Cultures (8.5), Geology (9.0), and Information Technology (9.4).
